

Write this way.... Adventure awaits!

Each week we will share 1 picture and 1 clip with activities for you to try. You can also add in your own ideas. When you have finished we would love to see your work so please share your ideas!

Can you use the image above to write your own adventure story?

- How did the three children come to be on this river?
- Are they lost?
- What might they encounter on their journey?

Write an explanation text on the water cycle.

- Be sure to include time connectives. Now, Then, First.
- Could you include labelled diagrams to help explain each step further?

Why not try ...

- Conducting a science experiment to see which objects float and which sink. Can you make predictions first?
- Try collecting stones or pebbles from the garden and painting them. You can then take them on your daily walk and hide them for people to find or display them outside your house for passers-by to admire.

Write a diary entry as Tamara.

- What did the book teach you when you read it?
- Is your music box special to you? Why? Was it a gift from someone?
- How do you feel when you are dancing with your mother?
- Do you want to be a dancer when you are older?
- How does dancing make you feel?

Imagine Tamara's father works away, write a letter from Tamara's mother to her father.

- Let Tamara's father know how she is getting on.
- Remember the letter will be an informal one as you know the recipient well.
- How did Tamara make you feel today when you saw her dancing?
- Do the family miss him?

Why not try ...

-Designing your own music box. What elaborate pattern can you put on it? What shape would you make it? Would there be a ballet dancer inside? Does it need a key to be opened? What does the key look like?

-Learning the song 'this is me' in Makaton sign language? You could record your performance. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=slyf4BszIBk>
